Beware of Burglars who steal through windows

Cash, gold worth Rs. 5 lakh lifted from vanity bag using a hook; CCTV footage captures thief's image

Pic. 1: The CCTV visual of the burglar Pic. 2: The suitcase and the vanity bag kept near the window. Pic. 3: The plastic pipe with hook used in the crime.

Mysuru, Nov. 9 (BCT)- Burglars seem to have found a new way to rob valuables — watch out for houses with open windows and commit the crime. Though thefts through open windows have occurred in city in the past, the trend is bound to catch up with thieves striking it rich like this burglar who made away with gold and cash worth more than Rs. 5 lakh kept in a vanity bag.

A family in Bannimantap became an easy target for the burglar and the open window on the first floor of the house was his inviting target. The burglar's theft-act under the cover of darkness has been captured in the CCTV cameras installed at the house.

Visuals show the thief removing his slippers to avoid making sound and climbing the staircase to the first floor to commit the theft. The footage also shows him coming down the staircase in a hurry after the theft and leaving behind his slippers before escaping into the dark.

The theft took place on the night of Nov. 6 at the house of Mohammad Rumman Khan at House No. MH 8, 4th Main, 4th Cross, C Layout, Bannimantap in city. Rumman works at a media house in Bengaluru and he has lodged a complaint at Narasimharaja Police Station.

In his complaint, Rumman Khan has said that he lives at H.B.R. Layout in Bengaluru due to professional reasons and he comes to his mother's place at Bannimantap every week. His brother Salauddin Khan and his family stayed at the house.

He said that he came to Mysuru along with his family on Nov. 3 and on Nov. 6, he had been along with his wife to his grandmother's place to attend a function. "We came back to our mother's house at Bannimantap at 12.45 am and retired for the day on the first floor. The next day (Nov. 7) when we were getting ready to leave for Bengaluru, my wife, while packing clothes, discovered that her valuables were missing from the vanity bag that was kept on an open suitcase under the window," he stated in the complaint.

Girls gaining ground

Diminishing presence of females in the country's population as their ratio to that of males is being projected in the media more frequently nowadays than in the days past. Thanks to the currently emerging "MeToo" platform, the females, particularly in the elite sections of society, are coming out of their time-honoured shell as it were, with disclosures of episodes portraying the males, also in the elite sections, as aggressors indulging in unedifying acts. While some episodes have reportedly taken place not too recently, doubts about their veracity are surfacing in many cases, particularly where persons of standing in society including pontiffs and clergy as well as those in high posts in both government and corporate sector, not to forget a few in the noble calling of teaching, even in prestigious institutions. The battle lines are getting thicker as females are levelling sexual assault charges and a few facing the charges have hastened to issue press statements denouncing the allegations.

The era of society favouring the custom of confining the females in the family to the four walls of their dwelling has clearly passed into the pages of the land's long history, except to an increasing extent still in vogue in rural parts. While the females, educated and living in urban environs are entering the male bastion of workplace, the number of reports in the media about males versus females is bound to rise in days ahead.

The culture of describing females as the weaker gender seems to have lost its age-old meaning, given their increasing presence in various theatres of life dominated by males until not too long ago. Girls have already demonstrated their virtual victory over boys at school stage by outnumbering boys in passing public examinations with distinction. That feature has been cemented further by significant rise in the number of girls entering the portals of colleges and universities earning degrees in the various subjects. Nobody can miss the conspicuous feature of females in professions such as engineering, medicine, law, administration and so on. A cross-country survey conducted recently in the country has brought out that seven out of 10 teenage girls want to finish graduation, three in four don't want to marry before they turn 21 and so on.

While girls in the land have shown their resolve with career aspirations on an unprecedented scale, they are required to be partners instead of adversaries as it were of their male colleagues in workplaces not to be at the receiving end of male assaults or at the giving end of levelling charges against males. The Kannada idiom "Yeradu kai seridare chappale" clinches the debate.

EDITOR'S BOTTOMLINE

Last year, over 1,500 people died in road accidents in Delhi — the highest anywhere in the country. Many of these deaths were caused by those who gave two hoots about traffic rules or about those who obeyed them. In the last one year, 13 Delhi police personnel also died in the line of duty — all of them in road accidents. They were mowed down on the way to work or while patrolling the city's streets or while riding to a crime location or while trailing a suspect. These were not deaths that resulted from a driver's error of judgement or due to some unforeseen circumstance. These were unjustifiable tragedies. — Veenu Sandhu in Business Standard

She cleans eyes by licking their eyeballs

Crnjevo: An 80-year-old woman from the Bosnian village of Crnjevo, claims to be somewhat of a miracle worker for allegedly cleaning people's eyes of various debris using only her tongue.

Hava Celebic, who is known as "Nana Hava" in her home village, says she learned the bizarre medical procedure a long time ago, from another woman, also called Hava. She has been cleaning people's eyes by licking their eyeballs, for decades now, and claims to have been sought out by people of all nationalities, from Russians to Americans.

She starts by sterilizing her mouth with alcohol, after which she will ask the patient to hold their eyelid raised, and begin searching for speck in the eye socket with the tip of her tongue. Sounds pretty disgusting, doesn't it. Her kids seems to agree, which is why she has been unable to pass down the bizarre practice to them.

A portrait with 20,000 Sunflower seeds

Shangai: Artist Hong "Red" Yi of Shangai is well known for her use of unconventional materials, and her latest masterpiece – a portrait of Chinese artist Ai Weiwei made with 20,000 meticulously arranged sunflower seeds is worthy of her reputation.

Red sprinkled 20,000 sunflower seeds onto a white canvas and painstakingly arranged them all by hand to recreate Weiwei's famous portrait with his hands stretching his eyes wide open. Remarkably, she managed to capture his features in great detail, just like she had managed to do with other unusual mediums in the past.

She hopes that her work inspires others to fight for freedom of expression.

Plastic banned... Really?

Sir,

An eco-friendly attitude was established amongst the residents of a few areas when they decided to ban the usage of plastic bags. Instead groceries were delivered in paper bags. I felt a sense of pride when we locals were really implementing the ban of plastic bag rule.

But I was disappointed when I notice the presence of plastic bags every now and then. Right from grocery store to fashion stores, everyone packs the purchased items in plastic bags.

I wonder where the plastic bag comes from if the country is planning for stoppage of its usage. Why can't plastic manufacturing be completely shut down? Are the citizens of India waiting for the order of ban to be announced from Central government? Despite all efforts people are continuing to use plastic bags for their convenience.

I really wish people take this matter seriously and stop usage of plastic bags. Every single person's contribution would save our planet. Let's say NO to plastic bags and instead carry paper bags from home and deny the grocery store person's plastic carry bag.

Are all the saplings planted on Environment Day growing?

A few have dried up; others have become fodder for stray cattle

Mysuru, Nov. 9 (SBD&NNN)- Everyone is aware that if we do not protect the greenery around us, then the living beings will stop breathing one day. In spite of this hard truth, the destruction of forests is going on and the trees are being axed in urban areas in the name of development. However, in the midst of all this destruction, one solace is the planting of saplings during the World Environment Day. But what we need to understand is whether the saplings will grow into trees.

On June 5, World Environment Day is celebrated everywhere. The Government and the Non-Government Organisations (NGOs) try to create awareness about the importance of clean environment through different types of programmes.

One of the main agendas during the programme is to plant and water the saplings thus spreading the message of green environment. Likewise, in Mysuru, thousands of saplings have been planted on that day. Hundreds of saplings were distributed through the Horticulture Department in all the Wards.

In every Ward, nearly 20 varieties of saplings including neem and about 80 different types of medicinal plants were distributed. They were all planted on the roadside, schools and college premises and in burial grounds. In short, wherever there is water facility available, said a report from the officials of the MCC.

Saplings seen completely dried up in Vijayanagar Layout.

Apart from this, it is said that private organisations have also planted hundreds of saplings. But will these plants grow into trees by watering them only on the Environment Day? Who will protect these plants and nurture them? These are the questions before the public.

It is not difficult to protect and nurture the saplings planted in schools, colleges and office premises.

However, it is not easy to nurture them on the roadsides and burial grounds. Most of the saplings on the roadsides have either dried up or have been eaten by stray cattle.

Due to good rains this year, many plants have turned green and looking healthy. But to strengthen them it requires some more nourishing and hence more watering is required.

Except for the saplings planted near homes, the ones planted in vacant spaces are drying up due to lack of nourishment.

Though there are tree-guards put around the saplings a few without them have become easy fodder to stray cattle.

The MCC must take more care to protect the plants and nurture them. They should create awareness among the people to water the plants that are in the vacant spaces. The environmentalists must work hard in this direction.

Everyone should join hands to protect and nurture the greenery in city, say environment-lovers.

'Replace damaged borewell pipes, ensure supply of drinking water'

Periyapatna, Nov. 9 (HDR& SR)- Drinking water crisis has severely affected the Fire Station Department in the town as borewells which are the main source of water for the staff quarters as well for the fire extinguishers is damaged.

There are 16 staff in the Department who are residing along with their families at 14 residential quarters in the premises.

The metal pipes laid to supply water from borewells are rusted and black water coming out of it forcing the Department staff to depend on alternative source of for water. The families of these staff are using borewell water to prepare food, drinking and for household chores.

Though the Department staff had brought the problem to the notice of higher authorities of the Department for replacing the rusted metal pipes and despite Department official Bharath Kumar from Mysuru inspecting the damaged borewell pipes recently following complaints many days ago, the problem is yet to be sorted out.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, Fire Station Officer Venkatesh said that about Rs. 20,000 is needed for the replacement of the rusted metal pipes.

He added that he had written a letter to the higher officials of his Department to sanction funds for the work. As there was a delay in sanctioning the funds, the Department staff are forced to bear the brunt of drinking water problem.

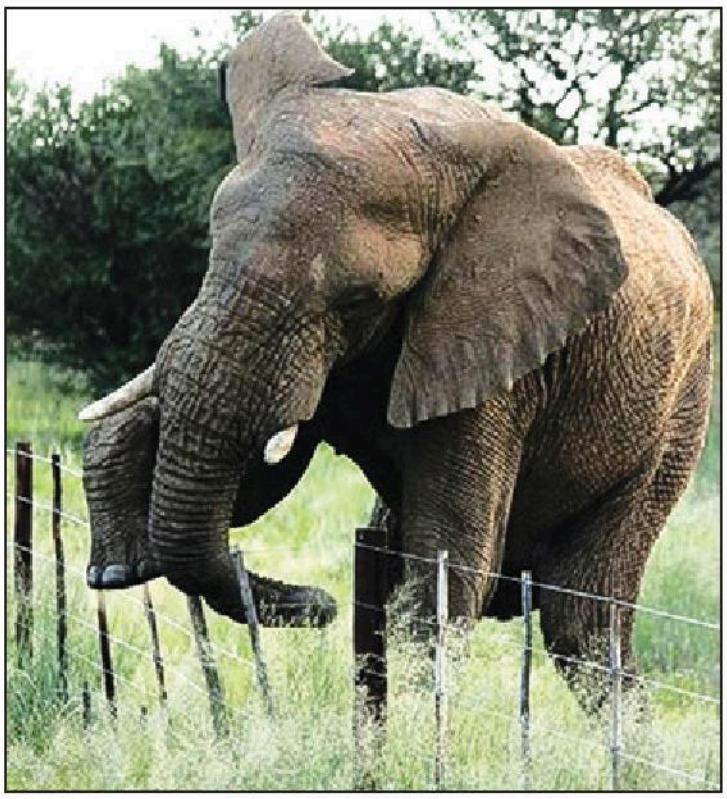
He said the staff and their families were collecting water from the neighbouring Town Municipal Council (TMC) borewell to meet their drinking water and household needs at present.

Though the TMC had ensured water facility to the Fire Station Department, the irregular supply of water has affected the work of the Department in fire extinguishing operations as the TMC releases water for one hour once in a week.

"The Department staff are collecting water from nearby lakes and ponds in case of fire tragedies for extinguishing operation. Various plants planted in the Department premises are also drying up due to shortage of water," he said

Venkatesh urging the higher officials of the Department to solve the water problem immediately said that he has also written another letter to the Chief Administrative Officer of Town Municipal Council to ensure alternate water supply connection exclusively to the Fire and Emergency Services Department.

Apex Court directs States to remove electric fence around elephant corridors immediately



New Delhi, Nov. 9 - The Supreme Court has directed Tamil Nadu, Karnataka and other States to remove electric fences and barbed wire, installed by the owners of resorts developed around the "critical" elephant corridors in the country immediately.

The Court order said "Electric fences and barbed wire, wherever installed by the resort owners, should be removed immediately."

A three-Bench Justices comprising Madan B. Lokur, S. Abdul Nazeer and Deepak Gupta passed the order for removing electric fences and barbed wire, which caused serious injuries to wild elephants passing through the corridors.

The Court was earlier informed that there were large-scale constructions going on in the elephant corridors particularly in Tamil Nadu following which the Court directed closure of 27 resorts raised in the Nilgiris. The Court, after directing that no construction would be permitted, ordered the Collector of the Nilgiris to prepare a plan of action on how to identify the constructions that have been made, when they have been made and for what purpose the constructions are being utilised.

Meanwhile, The Karnataka Government had earlier told the Court that it was mooting to formulate special rules for encouraging private land holders around the elephant corridors and the protected areas to declare their land as "private conservancies." This would help in securing wider corridors for the long ranging mammals like elephants, gaurs, tigers, leopards, sambars etc., it said.

The Forest Department, along with Wildlife Trust of India, has secured Edearahalli - Doddasampige Elephant Corridor by purchasing 25.37 acres of land during the year 2003. This corridor connects Male Mahadeshwara Wildlife Sanctuary with Biligiri Ranganathaswamy Tiger (BRT) Reserve. "The land was transferred and registered in the name of Forest Department during 2009. The process of declaring the said area of 25.37 acres as a part of Male Mahadeshwara Wildlife Sanctuary is under progress," it said.

The State Government further said that its Forest Department and the Wildlife Trust of India are pursuing to secure Chamarajanagar–Talamalai Elephant Corridor, which connects Talavadi Range of Sathyamangalam Tiger Reserve in Tamil Nadu and Punjur Range of BRT Reserve in Karnataka.

Shooting to Thrill!

The recent report in SOM that a sports complex built by the MUDA at great cost at Vijayanagar in our city has been lying idle and unused for the last eight years makes very sad reading by itself. But the part that is sadder still is the information that this now crumbling complex has become a haven for anti-social elements who have been using it regularly as a place where they can indulge in drinking, gambling and other nefarious activities.

There are many such government-launched facilities across many cities and towns in our State which have not been put to their full intended use simply because the authorities do not have the inclination and expertise to manage them efficiently. It is therefore better if all such establishments are handed over either to private agencies or to reputed educational institutions which can maintain them well and make the best use of the facilities they offer. A provision, on payment of a reasonable fee, to allow their use by other agencies which may require them for their events, can be included in the contract.

Looking at the Vijayanagar sports complex I feel that an excellent indoor air-rifle shooting range can be established there since it has large enough covered area with all other facilities. This hitherto much neglected sport is becoming increasingly popular in many North Indian cities which is why we are seeing only youngsters from the Northern States outshooting all the others at national and international shooting events. It is high time that we thought of popularising this excellent sport which can instil skills like patience, perseverance and concentration in all those who choose to pursue it.

Today, most of our youngsters suffer from a lack of these very essential attributes as the present era offers them many useless and even harmful distractions that can excite or placate their mind without requiring any effort. This absence of the need for any effort and training also converts many of them into drop-outs from all their fleeting pursuits as they tend to get very easily discouraged by early setbacks and failures. Incidentally, this tendency can be easily and effectively conquered by some careful honing of their spirit of persistence. Because it is a slowly learnt skill like music, dance and yoga that require discipline, constant effort and practice, competitive sport-shooting too can very effectively increase the coordination between mind and body. If you ponder over what I am saying I'm sure you will realise that all those of our youngsters who excel in something as simple as music or dance are not so much distracted by their mobile phones and the access to the social media that they offer. They develop a completely different and more fruitful point of focus which makes it easy for them to identify, isolate and reach the goals they set for themselves.

Since the sport of air-rifle shooting does not require much spending at the basic levels, it can easily be pursued even by persons of modest means. Only when one qualifies for competing at very advanced events the need for acquiring some state-of-the-art equipment arises but that is thankfully the time when sponsorships become easily available.

But the sheer joy of simply toying with an air rifle is something that has to be experienced to be believed ! The sport itself is so addictive that anyone who indulges in it will simply never feel like giving it up and will therefore continue to remain an adherent braving all odds.

I still remember very well the joy my first Diana air rifle brought into my life when my father gave it to me as an unexpected gift when I went home for my summer holidays as a seven-year-old boy. My father soon realised that the Model 35 he had bought for me was much too big for my size and offered to get it exchanged for a smaller one when he went to Bangalore next. He said that he could do it very easily as Raju, the owner of Guncraft, the shop that he had bought it from was his close friend. But I simply refused to let go for fear of losing something that I had developed a love for at first sight. I reassured him that I would soon grow up and it would suit me fine and thus dissuaded him from going ahead with his good intentions. And, sure enough, I grew up with the gun, shooting it for many years with its butt clumsily tucked under my arm rather than supported smartly on my shoulder! And, I shot it admirably well, impressing all my friends and relatives with my skills.

This gun of my childhood remained my constant companion all through my growing years and it has remained in our family to this day as a much loved family member. It has been a giver of much joy as all my younger siblings and even my own children learnt the art of rifle shooting admirably well with it ! Unlike most other sports which require much strength and a good physique, the sport of competition shooting can be pursued by anyone of an ordinary build. All our school and college students can give it a try at some point of their lives and see if they do well at it.

It is good that now the CBSE has also decided to include air-rifle shooting in its curriculum and is urging all its affiliated institutions to encourage this sport. If a few of the many reputed colleges and schools in our city come forward to include the sport of air-rifle shooting into their sporting activities they can adopt the Vijayanagar sports complex and create an excellent shooting range there with all the requirements of the sport incorporated into it.

They would perhaps do well to rope in the services of a qualified training agency with good credentials like how even defence academies are doing these days as this is a very specialised field. Who knows, very soon they may be able to turn out some outstanding shooters who may bring laurels not only to themselves but to our city too at the Olympics!

BJP stir against Tipu Jayanti, Congress stages counter protest in city

Mysuru, Nov.9 (RK&DM) - As part of a State-wide agitation against Tipu Jayanti celebrations planned by the State Government on Nov.10, the City and District BJP staged protests at different venues in city this morning. The City BJP staged a demonstration at Gandhi Square.

Accusing the JD(S)-Congress coalition government of celebrating Tipu Jayanti only as part of vote bank politics, the BJP workers maintained that CM H.D. Kumaraswamy's double standards were exposed as he had opposed the same celebrations when Siddharamaiah headed the Congress government.

Claiming that Tipu was a tyrant who butchered Hindus and also as anti-Kannada, the protestors raised slogans against the coalition government. Asking the government to cancel the celebrations, the workers warned that the government would be held responsible for any untoward incidents that may happen during the celebrations.

City BJP President Dr. B.H. Manjunath, former KEA Chairman B.P. Manjunath, former MLC G. Madhusudhan, MLA L. Nagendra, former Mayor Sandesh Swamy, leaders Raju, Prabhakar Shinde, M.P. Rajesh and others took part.

In another protest, the district BJP staged a demonstration in front of Mahatma Gandhi's bust opposite the District Law Courts Complex. District BJP President M. Shivanna, leaders Nagaraj Malladi, Thotadappa Basavaraj, Hosahalli Venkatesh, Arun Kumar Gowda, Balakrishna, Jagadish Gowda and others took part.

Prohibitory orders in Srirangapatna

With the government all set to celebrate Tipu Jayanti tomorrow, the Mandya District Administration, as a security measure, has imposed prohibitory orders under Section 144 in politically sensitive Srirangapatna taluk of the district for two days from this morning. Srirangapatna has the tomb of Tipu Sultan. The ban orders will be in effect from 8 am today till 8 am on Nov. 11.

Congress stages counter protest

Even as the BJP staged demonstration against Tipu Jayanti celebrations, Congress leaders and workers staged demonstrations at Gandhi Square and Chikka Gadiyara to counter BJP.

Accusing the BJP of politicising Tipu Jayanti, the Congress workers, while welcoming the decision of the coalition government to celebrate Tipu Jayanti, lashed out at the BJP claiming that Tipu was a valiant freedom fighter who died while fighting the British.

Former MLAs Vasu and M.K. Somashekar, former Ministers B.K. Chandrashekar and C.H. Vijayashankar, former Mayors Modamani, T.B. Chikkanna and Pushpalatha Chikkanna, City Congress President R. Murthy, Corporator Pushpalatha Jagannath and several other party leaders took part.

BAN MINING AROUND KRS DAM

Vedike begins padayatra to B'luru

Mysuru, Nov.9 (MTY&SR)- Demanding the State Government to completely ban stone quarrying and mining activities around KRS Dam in Mandya district, members of Kasturi Karnataka Janapara Vedike took out a padayatra from city to Freedom Park in Bengaluru this morning

They began their journey from Kote Anjaneyaswamy Temple shouting slogans against the government for its failure to curb mining activities around KRS that threatened the safety of the Dam. They also wanted the government to provide minimum support price for silk cocoon producers of the State as they were affected by drop in prices.

The protesters will halt near Nimishamba Temple in Srirangapatna tonight. Later they will proceed to Mandya tomorrow and halt at Maddur tomorrow night. They will halt at Channapattana on Nov. 12, Sangama Basavanadoddi on Nov. 13, Kengeri on Nov. 14 and they will reach Freedom Park in Bengaluru on Nov. 15. They will submit a memorandum to Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy after staging a dharna.

State Unit President of the Vedike Ramesh Gowda alleged that use of high-density explosives and other blasting materials by quarry owners not only threatened the safety of KRS Dam but also posed a threat to villagers residing nearby quarry sites. It also caused mild tremors in the region.

Rs. 600 crore investment fraud case

Mining baron Janardhana Reddy gives cops the slip in Hyderabad

Janardhana Reddy

Bengaluru/Ballari, Nov.9- A day after the Bengaluru Central Crime Branch (CCB) Police said that they were investigating former Minister G. Janardhana Reddy's possible role in "bailing out" Syed Ahmed Fareed in an Enforcement Directorate (ED) case involving a Rs. 600-crore Ponzi scheme, three special teams on Thursday landed in Hyderabad in search of the elusive mining baron.

By evening, one team got a tip that Reddy was at a close friend's apartment near Banjara Hills, but by the time the Police reached there, he had vanished, investigators said.

One more Police team will leave for Telangana soon, a senior CCB officer said, adding that Reddy had been evading Police from Tuesday.

All the three mobile numbers he uses are switched off. Before switching off his phones, Reddy had made several calls to Hyderabad and other places on the Karnataka border.

Additional Commissioner of Police (Crime) Alok Kumar said that investigators, who have sought help from Police of other States to nab Reddy, had questioned Ambidant Marketing Pvt. Ltd. Founder-Director Syed Ahmed Fareed again yesterday. Investigators believe Reddy took 57 kg of gold from Fareed, promising to pay unscrupulous Enforcement Directorate officers to let him off the hook in the investment scam. "We have some big names involved in the case," Alok Kumar said.

Reddy's house searched in Ballari: In Ballari, armed with a search warrant, an eight-member CCB team led by ACP Manjunath Chowdary swooped down on Reddy's house and offices at 8 am.

Reddy's wife Aruna Lakshmi was present during the search and affixed her signature on the panchanama (witness record) copy. Her father Parameshwara Reddy told reporters later that he cooperated with the investigators.

The searches evidently upset her mother Nagalakshmamma, and Reddy's friend and BJP leader B. Sreeramulu soon arrived in an SUV to placate her.

Officers recorded the operation on their cellphones as they scoured the kitchen, bedrooms and bathrooms, knocked on walls and opened all lockers in the presence of Sreeramulu and fellow party leader K. Ramachandra Reddy.

Rumman's family discovered that gold ornaments weighing 120 grams and cash of Rs. 15,000 were missing from the vanity bag. The total value is estimated to be Rs. 4 lakh. On closer search, the family discovered that some more gold ornaments were missing from the bag and the value is estimated to be Rs. 5 lakh as the total weight of gold stolen is 160 grams.

When the family later scanned the CCTV footage, they saw a burglar entering the house complex at 12.02 am on Nov. 7. The visuals showed the burglar climbing the stairs after removing his slippers and kneeling down before the window to steal valuables. The thief carried a plastic pipe that is attached with sharp metal wires at one end so that it can pick up objects.

Though it was a window that had narrow grills, the burglar managed to take away the cash and jewellery. However, he abandoned ATM cards near the window. Deputy Commissioner of Police (Crime and Traffic) Dr, Vikram V. Amathe, and Narasimharaja ACP C. Gopal visited the spot.

The Police have launched a manhunt to nab the burglar based on the CCTV footages.

Deepavali: 4 injured while bursting crackers

Mysuru, Nov. 9(MK &SR)- Four persons sustained injuries in their eyes and hands while bursting fire crackers at various places in the district during Deepavali festival celebrations.

The injured have been identified as 39-year-old Mahesh of Hinkal, 15-year-old Preetham of Gayatripuram, Puttabuddhi of Metagalli and five year-old Mahesh of Hegganahalli in K.R. Nagar taluk.

They were treated at the Ophthalmology Department at K.R Hospital and discharged later. Doctors said that the injuries were not serious.

Special ward

Meanwhile, Dr.M. Srinivas, Medical Superintendent of K. R. Hospital, told Star of Mysore that a Special Ward with 25 beds is kept ready at the Hospital to treat emergency cases related to injuries due to crackers.

This ward will work round the clock, he said and added that 10 doctors and 25 residential staff have been deputed to treat patients from 9 am to 4 pm and four doctors and nurses will work from the evening.

The Eye Hospital is equipped with all medicines and other facilities to ensure proper treatment to the patients.

He said that cracker related injury cases have seen a decline this year when compared to previous years in the district following Supreme Court directions on bursting fire crackers on specific timings.

No cases registered in city: DCP N. Vishnuvardhana

Deputy Commissioner of Police (Law and Order) N. Vishnuvardhana clarified that the City Police have not registered any cases related to violation of Supreme Court Order on bursting fire crackers during Deepavali celebrations in city.

Speaking to Star of Mysore, he said that Mysureans celebrated the festival by abiding the directions of Supreme Court. On Oct. 23, the Supreme Court had imposed restrictions on the use and sale of crackers in an attempt to control rising levels of air and sound pollution across India. The Court had restricted bursting of crackers for two hours. It had also said that crackers should be sold by vendors with proper licences.

The Apex Court had also directed the Police to ensure that there was no sale of banned crackers and in case of any violation, the Station House Officer (SHO) of the jurisdictional Police Station of the area would be held liable which would amount to contempt of Court.

UK-based Charities Advisory Trust at work in State Government Schools

By N. Niranjan Nikam

Profit of every meal eaten in The Green Hotel is for philanthropy, says Dame Hilary Blume

They were an exuberant lot of ladies, all from the United Kingdom (UK) and a few other countries waiting in the reception area of The Green Hotel on Hunsur Road. Just that morning a few of them had visited the Government Urdu Higher Primary School at Nachanahalli Palya on Manandavadi Road and soon after lunch, nearly ten of them led by Dame Hilary Blume (Director, The Green Hotel and Founder, Charities Advisory Trust in UK) were ready to hop into the mini bus and visit a few more schools run by the Government of Karnataka.

As the bus drove towards the congested Kyathamaranahalli and entered a small lane, the women, who alighted from the bus, were surprised to see a clean, well-maintained Government Higher Primary School. There was a welcome committee with the Head Master of the School V. Ramaswamy, a disciplined, dedicated teacher and H. Saraswathi, the Director of RLHP (Rural Literacy and Health Programme) who is coordinating with Charities Advisory Trust, greeting the group of lively women.

Walking up a flight of stairs that led to the library of the school at the far end, the students, both boys and girls, all dressed neatly in green uniforms got up shyly but most of them immediately recognised the familiar of face of Dame Hilary Blume, who is no stranger to Mysuru.

"Do you recognise Madam Hilary?" asked the Head Master and most of the students immediately recalled her earlier visit to the school. The library is well-equipped with books, desks and benches (all funded by the Charities Advisory Trust) and the visitors were keen to see how many students were really into reading the books.

A few of the students got up to demonstrate how helpful the reading habits they had been inculcated with had worked. A girl from eighth standard picked up a book in English and read without any mistakes in clear diction while a few others read from books in Kannada related to freedom fighters and scientists. Then they sang a few patriotic songs.

Now, it was the turn of the motley group of exuberant women, mostly in their sixties and seventies, to become children. They started singing the nursery rhyme for kids, 'Head, Shoulder, Knees and Toes.' Led by 'Good Giver' Annie Taylor, who had taught little children in Ethiopia, they began on a slow pitch and accelerated. The children who joined them sang with gusto and joy.

Impressed by the kind of work done by the school and RLHP, Hilary Blume asked the Head Master, what else they required for their school. He said that they needed a water filter and a LCD screen projector. She promised to install both through the profits earned in The Green Hotel.

"The profit of every meal eaten in The Green Hotel helps buy an egg for a child or for the books of children," she told SOM.

The children then wanted to know more about the visitors and they introduced themselves. There were two Elizabeths, one from Canada and another from England, both of whom were doctors. There was Ann Kingston, who was the knitting teacher for the "Knit for Peace" group and Danielle Liebech, who had visited The Green Hotel five times and there was also the young L. Marie, originally from France, who is working with Hilary Blume.

After a satisfying visit at Kyathamaranahalli, the group moved towards Sathagalli, where there is a slum and another Government Higher Primary School. It was around 4.30 pm. The RLHP runs a nutrition programme here in the school premises. A few of the infants and children were sitting there along with their mothers. A young woman, fondly called Akhila aunty by the Sathagalli slum residents, had brought ragi porridge which had a healthy mix of pulses and greens like drumstick leaves.

Along with the porridge, the kids were also given boiled eggs. A few of the mothers told this reporter how useful this programme was, as it had helped their malnourished children gain weight and improve their health.

Then right next door was the Government Higher Primary School where in the evening free supplementary classes are run for the children. Children in the age group of six to 14 were sitting there quietly waiting for the classes to begin.

All of them in unison welcomed the idea of the evening classes and how they were all happy to be there studying.

RLHP Director Saraswathi asked one of the students to get up and welcome the visitors. A tenth standard student B.B. Mehak got up and welcomed the group. This girl, who is the Malala Yousafzai, (Nobel Laureate from Pakistan who is an activist for female education) of Mysuru, had stopped a child marriage in her area a couple of years ago.

One of the teachers, Seema, was a child labourer, who used to roll agarbathis. But today she has completed her Pre-University education because of the support of RLHP and Charities Advisory Trust.

The slum children here are so vibrant that when they were asked to sing a song, four girls got up and began singing Jalle Kabbu..., a folk song in faultless Kannada and dancing to choreographed steps. Asked for their names, they said Luhia, Simran, Husna and Rafia.

Everyone was moved by the effort that had gone into preparing the deprived sections of the society to face the world boldly.

"The Charities Advisory Trust is supporting many causes including the beauticians' course, nutrition programme, sponsoring health camps from the funds collected through Good Gift India. Their focus is also on libraries and they have helped setting it up in nearly 100 Government Higher Primary Schools," said Saraswathi.

Later, speaking to Star of Mysore, Hilary Blume said that 'Knit for Peace' is an initiative of the Charities Advisory Trust started as an income generation project for Hutu and Tutsi widows, victims of the Rwandan genocide and civil war.

"At our suggestion, the widows knitted school jumpers for the many orphans and we paid them by raising funds through featuring the project in Good Gift Catalogue, another of the Trust's initiative," said Hilary Blume.

"Good Gifts is an initiative started by me. This is a concept where the giver knows exactly where the money goes. Hence, we came out with Good Gifts Catalogue where people can identify with a range of causes; in fact, there are over 400 ways to help people take their first step out of poverty, enjoy better health and increased opportunities," she said and added, "I ask the givers to come and see how the concept works. That is how I bring such people to visit Mysuru to see the schools and slums and how the money they have given is spent. Our next visit with the 'Knit for Peace' group is in early January," she said

Asked whether she believed like many others who are doing charity work that charity is also a business, Hilary Blume said, "These are causes that I was introduced to, and continue to support, as I believe in them. I believe that once I give money, then the money is out of my hands to control. So it is important that I can trust those organisations I support. Administration is critical to keep a charity going, but too many big charities waste too much money."

On whether she has written any books on charity having worked for more than 40 years in the field, she recalled five books titled, 'Fund Raising - A Comprehensive Handbook,' 'Accounting and Financial Management for Charities,' 'Charity Trading Handbook,' 'Museum Trading Handbook' and 'Charity Shop Handbook' she has written. Hilary Blume also revealed that she is penning the sixth one now called 'The Ethics of Charity Giving.'

"Strict action against people obstructing officials' duty"

Bylakuppe, Nov. 9 (SR) - Taluk Panchayat Assistant Director K.M. Raghunath cautioned to take serious legal action against the people for obstructing the officials while ensuring drinking water to public.

Speaking at the 'Jamabandi' (Social audit) meeting for the year 2017-18 held at Haranahalli Gram Panchayat premises in Periyapatna taluk recently, he said that he had received complaints against some people impeding the official's duty and drawing drinking water illegally from drinking water supply pipes without paying any tax. As per the norms of the government, people should pay water tax to avail drinking water facility.

Earlier, Kesarinakere villagers Virupaksha, Suresh, Kalegowda and Neelamma had sought the officer to take serious action against some people of their village for allegedly attacking a water valveman, obstructing other Panchayat's officials duty after quarrelling with them. Kodagu turns fortress ahead of Tipu Jayanti

- Prohibitory orders imposed till Nov. 11
- Round-the-clock patrolling by 75 Police vehicles
- Liquor sale, processions, public meetings banned
- Tight vigil at entry and exit points

Rapid Action Force (RAF) team taking out a flag march yesterday at Virajpet. Picture below shows Tipu Jayanti Virodhi Horata Samithi staging a protest in Virajpet, Kodagu.

Madikeri, Nov. 9 (UNI, PS&BCT)- High alert has been sounded in Kodagu District as Tipu Jayanti Virodhi Horata Samithi, Kodava Makkada Koota, BJP, Bajarang Dal, VHP and Hindu Jagaran Vedike members are opposing Tipu Jayanti celebrations by Karnataka Government on Nov. 10 and have called for a bandh to oppose the celebrations.

Police personnel from different parts of the State have already been deployed at sensitive places in Kodagu and a Rapid Action Force (RAF) team took out a flag march yesterday at many places including Virajpet.

POLICE NOTICES

The Police have already warned of initiating legal action against any attempt to disrupt peace. Notices have been issued to several people who have opposed the celebrations and they were asked to appear before Somwarpet, Virajpet and Madikeri Tahsildars and warned against disrupting peace. As a precautionary measure, the Police have collected letters of undertaking from potential miscreants.

It may be recalled that Tipu Jayanti celebrations in Kodagu district had turned violent on Nov. 10, 2015, in which two people had lost their lives. There was stiff opposition to Tipu Jayanti in 2016 and 2017 as well.

On its part, the District Administration will organise a Tipu Jayanti in Old Fort Hall and the entry to the programme is by invitation only. CCTV cameras have been installed at sensitive places.

BAN ORDERS

Ban orders have been imposed as per Section 144, 144(a) and as per Karnataka Police Act 1964 Column 35 from the evening of Nov. 9 (today) till 6 am on Nov. 11 to prevent any untoward incidents. Apart from pre-designated events like marriages, house warming ceremonies and naming ceremonies, no other public or political functions must be organised. Processions have been curbed and public display of religious flags has been banned.

It will be only an official celebration in Kodagu and no association has been given permission to observe the event.

Mounting of flexes, banners and posters on Tipu Jayanti is also banned. Apart from the members of security machinery, no one else is authorised to display weapons or carry them in public places.

SENIOR OFFICERS CAMP

To prevent anti-social elements from neighbouring Kerala from indulging in violence in Kodagu like it happened in Kodagu in 2015, a team of senior Police officers conducted inspections in Kannur and Kasaragod check-posts in Kerala. IGP (Southern Range) K.V. Sharath Chandra is also monitoring security measures.

Sale of liquor has been banned from midnight of Nov. 8 till 8 am on Nov. 11 as per Karnataka Excise Act 1965. Clubs, bars and restaurants have been directed not to serve liquor during ban period.

VIGIL AT CHECK POSTS

Kodagu Superintendent of Police Suman D. Pennekar said that a special team of Police had been engaged to collect information on those conspiring to disrupt celebrations. As many as 10 check posts have been set up at places where the district shared borders with Kannur, Wayanad, Kasargodu, Hassan, Dakshina Kannada and Mysuru.

These check posts will keep a close vigil on miscreants who may disrupt peace. 40 CCTV cameras have been installed in all check posts and a total of 249 CCTV cameras have been installed in Madikeri, Virajpet and Somwarpet. Internal checkpoints have been set up at 40 places including Maldare, Kutta, Anechowkur, Siddapur, Koppa, Shirangala, Kodlipet, Shanivarasanthe and Sampaje.

Vehicles plying in and out of the district were also being inspected. "Additional Police personnel including an Additional SP, six Dy.SPs, 20 Inspectors, 46 Sub-Inspectors, 104 ASIs, 850 constables, 21 DAR platoons, 10 KSRP platoons and 300 home guards will be on duty, apart from the RAF team," the officer stated.

As many as 75 Police vehicles will patrol the district round-the-clock. Seven Rapid Response teams from the Forest Department were also deployed. The government had issued orders and deployed special executive magistrates to ensure maintenance of law and order.

Tipu Jayanti event only at Kalamandira in Mysuru

Mysuru, Nov. 9- The Mysuru City Police have said that no permission had been granted for Tipu Jayanti celebrations anywhere (indoor or outdoor) in the city barring the lone event organised by the District Administration at Kalamandira on Nov. 10.

No permission has been given for holding protests, meetings, bike rallies, functions or interactions either in support or opposition of the celebrations, a statement issued by the Office of the Commissioner of Police said.

Police have barred private celebrations and instead suggested that people participate in the government-sponsored event at Kalamandira. Police have also restricted display of posters, banners and flexes either in support or disagreement of Tipu Jayanti, in any part of the city. Posters and banners can be displayed only at the venue of the function.

Temporary Police check-posts will operate in sensitive areas across the city and Police patrolling will be underway continuously in all those places. Additional Police personnel have been deployed in 10 permanent Police check-posts in the city and the personnel will be keeping a watch on the entry and exit of vehicles, the release said.

Police officers were also in the process of collecting information on whether any suspicious persons have checked-in at hotels here and investigation will be conducted in case of any information. Peace meetings have been conducted in Police Stations with the leaders of various communities in connection with the celebrations.

Dy.CM to inaugurate Tipu Jayanti at Vidhana Soudha tomorrow

CM's name missing from invitation

Dr. Parameshwara

Bengaluru, Nov. 9 (OSR)- Karnataka Chief Minister H.D. Kumaraswamy's name is conspicuously missing from the invites sent for the Tipu Jayanti celebrations.

Deputy Chief Minister Dr. G. Parameshwara will inaugurate the State celebrations at the Banquet Hall of the Vidhana Soudha in Bengaluru tomorrow at 11.30 am. The official invitation printed by the Department of Kannada and Culture that is organising the event does not have Kumaraswamy's name.

Sources told Star of Mysore that Kumaraswamy will be in Mysuru at a private place to catch up some rest and sleep and he has reportedly instructed the Kannada and Culture Department not to include his name in the official invite as he will not be able to make it.

An official statement from Chief Minister's Office says the CM will be away from all official engagements till Nov. 11. He will spend time with his family, the statement said.

Due to coalition compulsions, the Kumaraswamy government has reluctantly agreed to celebrate Tipu Jayanti, which is being opposed by the BJP and the people in Kodagu. The JD(S) has always stayed away from Tipu Jayanti when it was in the Opposition and does not seem to be keen on celebrating it now, sources said.

However, the party has deputed its senior leader and MLC Basavaraja Horatti to preside over tomorrow's event. This is to prevent a wrong message going to people that JD(S), despite holding the government reins, has stayed away from the State event, sources said.

Even though Kumaraswamy has warned the BJP that the Government will act firmly if they create law and order issues during the celebrations, his absence at the State-level event has led to a lot of speculations.

WORD OF THE DAY

Brouhaha

Pronunciation: BROO-hah-hah

Meaning: A state of commotion or excitement : hubbub, uproar.

Origin: Some etymologists think brouhaha is onomatopoeic in origin, but others believe it comes from the Classical Hebrew phrase barukh habba', meaning "blessed be he who arrives" (Psalms 118:26). Although we borrowed brouhaha directly from French in the late 18th century, etymologists have connected the French derivation to that frequently recited Hebrew phrase, distorted to something like brouhaha by worshippers whose knowledge of Hebrew was limited. The word eventually came to be used in a sense similar to "applause" and in the sense of "a noisy confusion of sound"—the latter being the sense that was later extended in English to refer to any tumultuous and confused situation.

Example: There was much brouhaha in the tabloids over the young actor's sudden marriage to the woman who had been his high school sweetheart.

THE ODD WORD

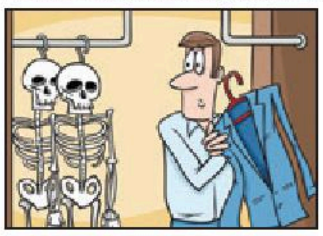
Pogonotrophy

The act of cultivating or growing and grooming other facial hair.

PHRASE OF THE DAY

A skeleton in the cupboard

Meaning: A secret source of shame, potentially ruinous if exposed, which a person or family makes efforts to conceal.



Origin: The phrase 'a skeleton in the closet' was coined in England in the 19th century. The English now usually use 'a skeleton in the cupboard', with 'skeleton in the closet' more common in the USA. The first reference one can find in print is a figurative one in a piece by William Hendry Stowell, in the UK monthly periodical The Eclectic Review, 1816. The 'skeleton' in this case was disease, infectious or hereditary: "Two great sources of distress are the danger of contagion and the apprehension of hereditary diseases. The dread of being the cause of misery to posterity has prevailed over men to conceal the skeleton in the closet...". The notion of a 'skeleton in the closet' as shorthand for the grim evidence of a murder was widely adopted into the language by popular Victorian author William Makepeace Thackeray.

Example: On accepting the job, Maya assured her employers that she had no skeletons in the cupboard.
